HAPPENINGS IN SOCIETY

Admiral Jellicoe Honor Guest at Brilliant Function—Marshalls Feted

WITH the reception given last evening to Admiral Jellicoe, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, one more brilliant function was added to the long list of entertainments in honor of visiting notables from overseas which have been written into the social history of the Capital. Nearly 1,500 guests were present, to the long list of entertainments in honor of visiting notables from overseas which have been written into the social history of the Capital. Nearly 1,500 guests were present, to the long list of entertainments in honor of visiting notables from overseas which have been written into the social history of the Capital. Nearly 1,500 guests were present, to the long list of entertainments in honor of visiting notables from overseas which have been written into the social history of the Capital.

The Argentine Ambassador and Mme. Le Breton will give a formal official reception on January 17, to meet the minister of finance of the Argentine Republic, Dr. D. Salaberry, and the delegation to the Pan-American financial conference over which he presides. On January 23 a dinner will be given at the embassy to the high American officials and Argentine group committees appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to the second Pan-American financial conference.

The Peruvian government is arranging to purchase a handsome embassy in Washington, and meanwhile the Ambassador and Mme. Peset are living at Waldman Park Hotel. The present embassy is being used for offices.

Hugh C. Wallace, our ambassador at Paris, will give a dinner to the reception in honor of the Shah of Persia on January 10.

Mrs. Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, will entertain the row afternoon and will hereafter receive every Wednesday afternoon when she is in town.

The Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Alexander will be the honor guests at a dinner which the Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Edwin F. Sweet are giving tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Sweet have as their guest Dr. Robert Babcock, of Chicago, who will be present at the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Torrey, of New York, who spent the last week-end with them, returned last night to their home.

Mrs. Collier's Reception. Mrs. William Miller Collier has issued invitations for a reception at Rauscher's tomorrow afternoon, from 4 until 6 o'clock. She will be assisted by Mrs. William M. Calder, Mrs. Frank Howard Sutherland, Mrs. George Barnett, Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin, Mrs. David Jayne Hill, Mrs. John E. Henderson, Mrs. Henry Getty Chilton, Mrs. James Carroll Frazier, Mrs. Walter R. Tucker, Mrs. Randolph H. Miner, Mrs. Robert H. Chapman, Miss Ella Calderon, Mrs. Luther W. Mott, Mrs. Bertrand H. Snell, Mrs. Rollin B. Sanford, Mrs. Edmund Platt, and Miss Mattie.

Miss Lella Gordon entertained at luncheon today at the commandant's house, Marine Barracks, in honor of her debutante sister, Miss Anne Gordon. The guests included Misses Anne Betty Grove, Miss Peggy Martin, Miss Delphine Heyl, Miss Marcella Chapin, Miss Lindsay Wood, Miss Helen Tucker, Miss Ruth Donaldson, Miss Eleanor Hays, Miss Mona Blodgett, Miss Anne Dulany, and Miss Mary Custis Lee.

Episcopal Home Ball. Admiral Viscount Jellicoe of Scapa rounded out yesterday's full and varied program by attending the ball at the New Willard last night for the benefit of the Episcopal Home for Children, his presence adding an unusual measure of interest to a brilliant and successful function.

The arrival of the admiral and his staff, who came on from the reception in their honor given by the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, was heralded by the British national anthem, and they were escorted by Col. William Eric Fowler, chairman of the floor committee, to the imposing box reserved for them at the end of the ballroom. There, for the first time, however, for the admiral shielded at the great red velvet chair which had been arranged especially for the guest of honor and insisted upon surrendering it to Mrs. George Barnett, a most decorative person in her stunning gown of royal purple, brocaded in gold, with flowing draperies of tulle. Moreover, the admiral soaped the box to stand below and greet in cordial fashion all and sundry who cared to shake hands with him, and a bit later he joined the dancers, "opening the ball" with Mrs. Barnett's debutante daughter, Miss Anne Gordon.

Those in the admiral's party, who remained for a full hour and a half and supper together, were Maj. Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. David L. Porter, Rear Admiral Albert Niblack, U. S. A., aide to the admiral, and Mrs. Niblack; Commander Ramsey, R. N.; Comdr. and Mrs. J. P. Haines, and Comdr. Percy Foote. Admiral Jellicoe enjoyed a dance with Mrs. Barnett, took several turns with pretty little Mrs. Haines, and afterward danced with Mrs. Francis Alton Connolly. She joined the party at supper.

Little Commander of Great Fleet. This admiral, who commanded the greatest fleet which ever went into battle, is a small man, with keen and humorous features, and a most gracious and friendly manner possible. He is as much at home on the dance floor as on the bridge of his ship in the thick of the smoke of battle; and he appeared to be thoroughly enjoying what was probably his first glimpse of American society whirl.

Mrs. David Meade Lea, president of the board of lady managers of the Episcopal Home, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. Alexander L. Pope, and Mrs. Lella Gordon, also members of the board. The introduction were made by Colonel Fowler. Both Mrs. Pope and Miss Draper were gowned in black, the former wearing black lace and the latter tulle effectively combined with jet. Mrs. Lea's costume was one of the handsomest seen this season. Fashioned of cloth of gold brocaded in deep blue, rose and green in a flower design, it was draped on lines which faintly suggested the fashion of the seventies and made with a graceful panel train. Lettuce green tulle formed the sleeves and a voluminous side drape.

The Peruvian Ambassador and Mme. Peset were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. McKenney in their box, and among the other guests were Senator and Mrs. Atlee Pomerene, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles B. Drake, Judge Martin Knapp and Captain Osborn. The minister of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes and Mme. Grouitch were guests of Mrs. Charles Boughton Wood, who had among her other guests Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews, of Buffalo, and Lady Campbell, of England, who are house guests of Minister and Mme. Grouitch; Mrs. William L. Graves and Miss Antoinette Graves, of New York, who are guests of their hostess; Captain Enoch, U. S. N.; Major George Oakley Totten and David Meade Lea, Mr. and Mrs. David Meade Lea.

had with them the Bishop of Washington, the Rt. Rev. Alfred Harding; his daughter, Miss Charlotte Harding, and son, Alfred Harding, Jr.; their aunt, Miss Harriet Douglas; Mrs. Alexander L. Pope, and Lucian Jones. Mrs. Dolos A. Blodgett had among her guests Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Turner, Miss Sara Lathrop, Mrs. Charles Gray Matthews, and Miss Helen Blodgett. Brigadier General and Mrs. Abbott's box was occupied by their daughters, whose guests included the Misses King, Capt. Crewell Garrison, Lieutenant Callahan, and Mr. Taylor.

Col. William Eric Fowler had among his guests in his box Mrs. Joseph Hampton and Mrs. James Carroll Fraser and others of his dinner guests. Mrs. F. B. Moran had with her in her box Major and Mrs. Scott Bullard, Col. and Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. E. W. Cole of Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. Brighthouse Townsend and Mrs. Horace Macfarlane.

Mrs. Harris, wife of Admiral Frederick R. Harris, occupied the box of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Baruch, and had among their guests, Colonel and Mrs. Clarence Day, Mrs. J. Stewart Hunt, Mrs. Victor Kauffmann and Archibald White. Miss Marguerite Schirvin occupied the box of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Meade Lea.
